he referred to as framing a bill of rights, in providing for trial by jury and religious liberty. He considered that individual liberty rested upon the instrument and these amendments. The Constitution and the changes made therein by amendment, he said, represent the historic development of the nation, and with it are entwined the labors of all the great Americans who have carried on the sovernment of the United States. Immigrants come to the United States with other traditions than those of our own land, he said; this he considered natural and inevitable. But if there is solidarity of soul and national consciousness to be maintained, these newcomers must be taught American traditions—"that the traditions of the United States from the dawn of the revolution are now theirs."

Regarding the criticism of the Constitution as the work of plutocrats. Senator Lodge indicated that its framers would be comparatively paupers in the light of modern wealth. Their recognition of property rights, he said, was no more than the recognition of an accepted principle of individual right. Property interests, he considered, had less to do with the framing of the Constitution than any other interest.

chandise bought and a large part for claims for damages to person or property. Two-thirds of the floating and internal debts of and claims against Nicaragua go back to the regime of the late dictator. Zelaya, besides five sixths of the bonded debt.

Upon his downfall in 1910 and the assumption of the government by the present administration, it asked the United States for advice and assistance, especially in relation to a settlement and payment of the floating debts and claims, amounting on their face to over $6,000,000. The American minister, the late Thomas C. Dawson, sent by the State Department to Nicaragua for the purpose, arranged, with other things, that the government should appoint a solution of the state of the st State Department to Nicaragua for the purpose, arranged, with other things, that the government should appoint a claims commission for the adjudication and settlement of all the unbonded, floating and miscellaneous debts, foreign and internal six-sevenths as watered.

When Mr. Bryan became Secretary of State and had informed himself of the situation he backed this mixed claims commission as strongly as had Secretary Knox. The commission paid the small claimants first—the poor people whose horses, or cows, or utensils, or huts had been requisitioned and seized in the various revolutions.

Nearly all of the claims presented to the commission were by Nicaraguans or Americans. When this international claims commission began paying the small claims allowed, the governments of Germany, Great Britain and Italy, in the autumn of 1913, at once demanded that the claims of their subjects be also paid and at 100 cents of their face amounts.

Sunday game. Week day games har that much.

Cubans like Americans and there is every reason to believe that our base ball and every other relation will be better and better every day.

When they had organized ball here they paid salaries of from $75 to $300 a month, $300 being the limit.

The corporations lost money, as there are no turnstiles and as a result about 1,000 fans enter free, that dead-head army kiling the game.

There is also another winter professional league, with four clubs, representing the following inland cities: Cerfuegos, Sagua, Caibarien and Remedios. October 27, 1913, the British minister to Central America wrote, calling attention to the adjustment of all British claims into one sum of $100,000 (to be exact, £19,800), made in January, 1912, and February, 1913; that this government had been patient during Nicaragua's financial distress, but now, "having notice of recent payment made by your government (Nicaragua) of certain German claims, which should not be considered as better than the English, it is requested that the amounts promised this legation be paid also without further delay." October 27, 1913, the British ministe

Nicaragua answered that it had paid

o claims of foreigners, that it die not even have sufficient revenues to pay the current salaries of its emplays the current salaries of the semployes, and pleaded for further time.

On February 2, 1914, the charge d'affaires of the German legation in Central America, Heinrich von Frantzius, wrote to Nicaragua, calling attention to a claim of $8,000 against the government by a Swiss under German protection, one Bohenblust, and that because of the failure to be paid he had had to borrow money whose interest was growing, for which I should be very sorry to have to hold your government responsible later."

On February 6, von Frantzius wrote again demanding payment of $30,860 said to be owed to a German engineer, Ernest Mueller, for some railroad surveying at Monkey point.

Not satisfied with writing notes, Charge von Frantzius came personally from his legation in Guatemala to Nicaragua to press the claims of the German residents, amounting altogether to $370,000. He demanded of the Nicaraguan government that the German claims be paid. The Nicaraguan government this case or not is not known, but it was a coincidence that von Frantzius was shortly after recalled home by his government. ploves and pleaded for further time.

Fairies, heralds and clowns will apwould pay the claims.
So, it is said, Secretary Bryan's well intentioned efforts to cause Nicaragua to pay the claims allowed by the mixed claims commission caused this unhappy republic much trouble and grief by bringing down a swarm of foreign creditors. So far this story is taken from the official records. What follows is not yet a matter of record, but is told by the Nicaraguan officials, as follows: Fairies, heralds and clowns will appear in appropriate costumes. All the prominent characters of Shakespeare, including Ferdinand, Miranda, Ariel, Touchstone, Audrey, Rosalind, Baptista, King Henry and Katharine will have places in the pageant.

Among those who are to have boxes are Justice F. L. Siddons, William Bruce King, Mr. Colin Livingston, Rev. Dr. Earle Wilfley, G. A. Lyon, Justice Stafford, Mrs. J. J. SHE'S THERE BECAUSE SHE PERFORMS— THE 3400 r. p. m. CHALMERS

Most cars start alike. But very few finish alike. Therein comes a mighty difference.

Step on the little button 10 months after date and you'll readily note the inequality.

One is sluggish, "dead", without emotion, and responds to the touch with the speed of old-time oxen responding to the lash. The other is alive, alert, ready; radiates desire to plunge ahead. This is the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers kind. The other kind is the species known to the trade as "one-year" cars. Chalmers makes a five-year car. There's many an old 1909 Chalmers 30 Blue Bird giving a good account of itselftoday. You'll find the everlasting pep there five years from the day you take your first turn at the wheel. Largely because of the 3400 r. p. m. engine. Which delivers mighty power with easy effort.

It's mostly in the design. The pistons are aluminum, about two pounds lighter per piston; the reciprocating parts lighter, which eases up the thrust on the bearings.

Then the crank-shaft, which is very heavy, and balanced to the weight of a hair in a special Chalmers device, spins at the rate of 3400 revolutions per minute.

It means excellent reserve power. For at 10 miles an hour the engine is turning up only 500 r. p. m. while at 20 she is doing about 1000 r. p. m. So that at excessive road speed she has the punch to deliver when called upon.

16% of her power is used at 10 miles an hour. So that she has 60% to 84%—when a twisting, hilly road looms ahead, when a sharp corner with a rugged grade hoves in sight; when the man ahead is showing you too much dust.

You'll like the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers for one single little reason. She sure can perform.

Ask your dealer about Chalmers service inspection coupons, negotiable at all Chalmers dealers everywhere. This system is a most important consideration in buying your car. Five-Passenger Touring Car, $1090 Detroit.
